LSA Podcast Tackles Anti-Asian Harassment and the Language of War

American medical student Esther Kim is trying to overcome her suspicion of people with a particular accent, one that she’s come to associate with racist taunts. The COVID-19 wave of anti-Asian harassment has made things worse. Also, Stanford professor Seema Yasmin tells us why pandemics bring out the language of war. Listen to the latest episode of Subtitle, the LSA's new podcast. Read more about Subtitle here, and donate here to support production costs of the podcast.
Complete Your Member Profile and Win Prizes!

Completing your membership profile allows the LSA to provide specially tailored services to its members and to track demographic changes in our membership over time. Complete your profile today and be entered in a drawing to win free LSA memberships, meeting registrations, and Amazon.com gift cards. Read more…

Go Behind the Scenes at the LSA's Subtitle Podcast

It's not too late to sign up for the latest LSA Webinar: Inside the LSA's Subtitle Podcast. This is a rare opportunity for a guided tour from hosts Patrick Cox and Kavita Pillay. The webinar will take place on Friday, April 24 from 1:00 - 2:30 PM EST. Read more…

#LSA2021 Organized Session Proposals Due May 15

Proposals for organized sessions for the LSA's 2021 Annual Meeting (San Francisco, January 7-10) are being accepted through May 15. Read the call for proposals. Proposals for posters and 20-minute papers will be accepted from May 1 - June 26. Read the call for abstracts.

SALT 30 Meeting Postponed (Virtually) to August

The SALT 30 meeting originally scheduled for later this month at Cornell University will now take place, entirely virtually, from August 17-20. Click here to read more, and stay tuned for more information about format and platform. The LSA has partnered with SALT since 2017 on promotion, meeting registration, and publication of the conference proceedings.

Bloomfield Book Nominations Due May 1

Nominations for the LSA's prestigious Leonard Bloomfield Book Award are due May 1. The Bloomfield Award recognizes a volume that makes an outstanding contribution of enduring value to our understanding of language and linguistics. To read more and to nominate a volume, click here. Note that we are encouraging nominators to supply instructions for accessing nominated works electronically.

Two LSA Members Receive Guggenheim Fellowships

The LSA is delighted to announce that two members -- Diane Brentari (University of Chicago, pictured at left) and Sabine Iatridou (Massachusetts Institute of Technology, pictured at right) have been awarded fellowships from the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation. Read more about Brentari’s award here, and about
In Case You Missed It

- The LSA has compiled a list of resources for linguists during the coronavirus pandemic. Read more...

Linguistics In The News

Some of the most popular recent news articles on linguistic topics:

- "Do Children Soak Up Language Like Sponges?" New York Times
- "In Argentina, a Bid to Make Language Gender Neutral Gains Traction" New York Times
- The many languages missing from the internet" BBC Future

Other LSA Resources

The LSA maintains listings of jobs, conference announcements, grant opportunities, in memoriam notices, and other news items of interest. Submit a conference listing or contact the LSA with news or other information.

LSA members can cause a portion of any purchase they make on Amazon.com to be donated to the LSA. Learn more, or make a tax-deductible donation.

Complete your member profile to be entered in a prize drawing.

Subscribe to RSS Feeds for the latest issue and the Table of Contents of Language.

LSA Student Members can submit their research to the Student Research Spotlight.

Visit the LSA website for information on other LSA resources, including:

- Taking Linguistics to the Public: An Outreach Guide
- Linguistic Academic Depository
- LSA Jobs Center

Copyright © 2020 Linguistic Society of America, All rights reserved.