The LSA's Subtitle Podcast in Quarantine with Joe Wong

Joe Wong is a brilliant bilingual comedian. In the US, he does standup. In his native China he hosts a popular TV game show. Recently his comedy has become more political: he is confronting US racial tensions head-on. In quarantine, Joe is writing a book, cooking for his son (to his son's dismay), and decrying virus-related anti-Asian hate crimes.

Oehrle Fund Reaches Goal
The LSA is delighted to announce that the Richard T. Oehrle Fund, first established in 2018, has now achieved its goal of raising $60,000 in contributions to endow a memorial lecture in Oehrle’s honor. The LSA wishes to thank Susan Steele and the rest of Dr. Oehrle's family and friends for spearheading the fundraising campaign, as well as all the generous donors who contributed to the fund. LSA Welcomes Summer Intern
The LSA welcomes Joshua Dees as our summer intern! Joshua earned an M.A. in Linguistics and TESOL from Southern Illinois University Carbondale and is now a first-year Ph.D. Student at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, where he is investigating syntactic and semantic patterns in Luo, a Nilo-Saharan language spoken in Kenya and Tanzania. We look forward to working with Joshua and our continuing volunteer Sofia Buitrago over the coming months.

We thank our outgoing intern Chanika Dorsey (Gallaudet University) for her outstanding service.

Online Survey on COVID-19 Impact
The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) via the International Survey of Scientific Authors (ISSA) is conducting a short (less than 5 minute) anonymous online survey, for scientists and non-scientists alike, about the impact of the COVID-19 crisis from a science perspective.

Correction
The Previous LSA Update (#180) reported a past NSF-DEL grant awarded to Andrew Garrett, misstated the amount of the grant (it was for $150,000, not $3.9 million), and neglected to name Co-Principal Investigator Line Mikkelsen. The LSA regrets the errors.
