The LSA is seeking to fill two part-time staff positions.

LSA Update

News from the
Linguistic Society of America

Update #203 - March 29, 2021

---

Check Out the Latest from *Language

Check out cutting-edge research from the LSA's flagship journal! The latest issue includes articles on attracting Black students to linguistics, stem alternations in Chichimec, lexical tones, the Santa Cruz sluicing data set, and more.

The March 2021 issue of Language is available online at Project MUSE. Please see the Table of Contents, with clickable links to the latest research published in the journal. To read the articles, you will need to be logged in using your institution's online credentials or the Project MUSE login portal for LSA members.

All LSA members can access issues of Language going back to 2001 through the Project MUSE website. Instructions are available here (login to LSA website required).

---

In This Issue:

- Language Online
- Statement on Racism
- Matching Grant
- Institute News
- Publications News
- SALT News
- Lx Career Launch
- Reminders
- ACLS News
- Department News
- In Case You Missed It
- Linguistics in the News

---

Follow the LSA on social media!

- Facebook
- Twitter
- LinkedIn
- YouTube
LSA Officers Issues Statement on Violence and Xenophobia Against Asian Americans

On March 19, 2021 the Officers of the LSA issued a statement in response to the recent wave of anti-Asian violence and xenophobia in the U.S., and in particular to the horrific shootings in Atlanta earlier this week. Read more...

Matching Grant Challenge Completed

Many thanks to former LSA President Steve Anderson and LSA Fellow Heidi Harley, who pledged to make matching contributions in support of the LSA's Open Access (OA) publishing program, up to $10,000. And many thanks to those whose contributions helped us reach our goal! Read more about Anderson and Harley's grants, have a look at the LSA's suite of OA publications, and make a contribution now.

2021, 2023 Linguistic Institutes Moved

The LSA Executive Committee has approved a proposal to move forward the dates of its two confirmed Linguistic Institutes. The decision to reschedule both Institutes was a difficult one, made as a result of the many challenges caused by the COVID-19 pandemic for planning and holding this unique LSA event safely and in person. Read more...

LSA Publications

In addition to the newest issue of Language mentioned above, the LSA is delighted to announce the recent publication of Proceedings of the Linguistic Society of America (Vol. 6, No.1); Proceedings of SALT 30; and a new issue of Phonological Data and Analysis. Read more about the LSA's publishing program.

SALT Conference Registration Now Open

SALT31, the Semantics and Linguistic Theory conference, is being organized by Brown University and will take place virtually from May 7-9, 2021. For more information, including the conference program, pop-up mentoring, and registration links, click here. Registration is required but free.

The LSA is a proud partner of SALT, the premier North American conference on semantics as a part of linguistic theory. For the fifth year in a row, we will handle conference registration, publish the proceedings, and promote SALT as part of our mission to advance the scientific study of language through scholarly communication.

Linguistics Career Launch Survey

The LSA's Linguistics Beyond Academia Special Interest Group (SIG) is currently planning Linguistics Career Launch (#LCL2021), a virtual bootcamp to help linguists explore careers... linguistics faculty and advisors

We have created an interest survey, open until April 13, in order to support our planning efforts. Please help us by completing this survey, and by circulating it to students and faculty/staff in your department. We also encourage you to share this survey in other networks, such as social media, with colleagues at other universities, and with other institutions you are affiliated with. You can find the survey at: https://forms.gle/fmEW54ncbvYFQtJ9.

LSA Members: Get Involved Today!
Members, up your LSA game today! See below for a few timely reminders:

- applications for the LSA's paid summer internship are due by April 4
- nominations, including self-nominations, for LSA officers and Executive Committee members are due by April 11
- proposals for organized sessions for the LSA's 2022 Annual Meeting are due May 17

ACLS News
The American Council of Learned Societies (ACLS) is accepting applications through May 6 for its Leading Edge Fellowships for recent Ph.Ds. Read more and apply now.

Department News: BU Emerging Scholars Lectures
Check out these lectures presented (virtually) in the Emerging Scholars Program presented through the Boston University Linguistics Department.

Have department news you'd like included in the LSA Update? Send it to lsa@lsadc.org.

In Case You Missed It ...

- The minutes (.pdf) of the most recent meeting of the LSA Executive Committee have been posted.
- LSA members employed in industry, note that the industry taxonomy has been updated and expanded. Take this opportunity to make sure your member profile is complete and be entered in a prize drawing.

Linguistics In The News
Some of the most popular recent news articles on linguistic topics:

- "Indigenous-Language Radio Show in Oakland Promotes Vaccine Effort" National Public Radio

Other LSA Resources
LSA members can cause a portion of any purchase they make on Amazon.com to be donated to the LSA. Learn more, or make a tax-deductible donation.

Complete your member profile to be entered in a prize drawing.

Subscribe to RSS Feeds for the latest issue and the Table of Contents of Language.

LSA Student Members can submit their research to the Student Research Spotlight.

Visit the LSA website for information on other LSA resources, including:

- Taking Linguistics to the Public: An Outreach Guide
- Linguistic Academic Depository
- LSA Jobs Center

Copyright © 2021 Linguistic Society of America, All rights reserved.