Important Annual Meeting Updates

Registration Continues

Preregistration has concluded but ordinary registration is ongoing and will continue through the conference. If you can't attend the entire conference, register for a One Day Registration.

Covid Monitoring

We continue to monitor the situation with Covid and the Omicron variant. Please note that due to contractual obligations, we're unable to modify the terms of our in-person event unless directed to by District of Columbia authorities. Read our Covid Policies and Related Information online.

CEDL Travel Award Winners

The LSA is delighted to announce the winners of five CEDL Travel Grants to attend the upcoming 2022 Annual Meeting in Washington, D.C. The CEDL travel grants are supported by the Dennis R. and Carol Guagliardo Preston Fund for Diversity in Linguistics.
These Travel Grants, administered by the LSA's Committee on Ethnic Diversity in Linguistics (CEDL), are intended to increase the participation of underrepresented ethnoracial minorities in the LSA. Each grant (maximum $1000) will assist students in traveling to the Annual Meeting.

The winners for 2022, pictured at right: top, left to right, are Benardo Relampagos (Portland State University), Mskwaankwad Rice (University of Minnesota), bottom, left to right, Tamaya Levy (Northeastern Illinois University), Mohammed Jamil Al-Ariqy (University of Utah), and Zachary Ty Gill (University of Kentucky).

Read the full write-up on our website. Congratulations to all our award winners!

---

LSA 2021 Accomplishments

The LSA has been busy at work throughout 2021 on behalf of its mission to advance the scientific study of language. Our accomplishments are wide-ranging and are in the areas of professional development and education, scholarships, professorships, honors, awards, advocacy, public outreach, media relations, and other continuing traditions. See what the LSA has been able to accomplish this year through your dues, contributions, and charitable giving.

---

Subtitle Podcast News

New Episodes
The first episode of the latest NEH-sponsored season of Subtitle is now available. Some people have origin stories. Pardis Mahdavi has a hyphenation story. She came to embrace the hyphen between the words Iranian and American as her identity: two cultures within one person. Together with Pardis Mahdavi, we trace the many disputes surrounding this seemingly humble horizontal line. Listen to the Subtitle episode, “Once Upon a Hyphen” on all your favorite podcast streaming services, or read the transcript on Medium.

Subtitle Newsletter
The LSA's podcast Subtitle has just launched its own bi-monthly newsletter, ahead of the podcast’s third season. There'll be news on upcoming episodes, notes on language issues in the news, and some fun stuff. Click here to subscribe.

Charitable Giving Options to Support the LSA

There are only a few weeks left to take advantage of the $600 charitable giving exemption passed by Congress. Take the opportunity to support the work of the LSA with your charitable giving. There are a number of opportunities to do so!

- Make a Direct Donation
- Purchase Someone a Gift Membership (or use the pdf version) or a 5 Minute Linguist book, proceeds from which benefit the LSA
- Buy LSA Swag from the Zazzle Store
- Support the LSA through Amazon Smile
- Other options for shopping to support the LSA

Language News

Second Call for Language Co-Editor Nominations

Language’s editorial leadership team consists of an Editor and Co-Editor who serve together for three years. At the end of the three-year term, the Editor cycles off the editorial team, the Co-Editor becomes the Editor, and a new Co-Editor is elected. The term of the current Editor, Andries Coetzee, will end in December 2022, at which point the current Co-Editor, John Beavers, will assume the position of Editor. The current search is for a Co-Editor to serve alongside John Beavers, starting in January 2023.

Applicants are asked to supply a current CV (link or attachment), a concise summary of their qualifications and vision for the journal (2-4 pages), and the names and contact information for three references. Queries and applications should be directed in confidence to LSA Executive Director Alyson Reed at areed@lsadc.org with the words “Language Co-Editor Position” in the subject line. Applications should be submitted by January 31, 2022.

For complete information on job responsibilities and qualifications, read the announcement on our website.
Submit Your Photos

The LSA is always looking for ways to promote the work of our members and the important contributions that our field makes. And nothing helps tell those stories better than photographs of linguists in action. So, if you have any photos you’d like to submit that we can use in our publications, visit our handy online submission form on the website!

In Case You Missed It ...

Prize Drawing for Profile Completion
Don’t forget: there is a prize drawing at the meeting for those who have completed their profiles 100%. If you haven’t yet done so, complete your profile today!

Linguistics in The Public Sphere

Some of the most popular recent news articles and other features on linguistic topics:

- Deb Haaland Declares ‘Squaw’ A Derogatory Term, Orders Removal From Federal Lands (HuffPost)
- ‘We are still here’ - Native Americans in the Valley on the challenges of keeping their culture alive (KVPR)
- Dubbing 'A Fistful of Dollars' to spread the Navajo language (NPR)

PLEASE NOTE: The LSA offices will be closed for the holidays on Friday, December 24 and again on Friday, December 31. We wish everyone a safe and happy holiday season and a joyous and healthy new year.

Other LSA Resources

The LSA supports the scientific study of language by creating great venues for linguists from all subfields to congregate and discuss research, innovation, and learning. It is a community of scholars and professionals who have a deep respect for the importance of an interdisciplinary community of peers.

- LSA Listings
  - Job Listings
  - Conference Announcements
Grant Opportunities, In Memoriam Notices, and Other news items of interest. Submit a conference listing or contact the LSA with news or other information.

- Support the LSA
  - LSA members can cause a portion of any purchase they make on Amazon.com to be donated to the LSA. Learn more, or make a tax-deductible donation.

- Update Your Member Profile
  - Complete your member profile to be entered in a prize drawing.

- Stay Informed about Language
  - Subscribe to RSS Feeds for the latest issue and the Table of Contents of Language

- Student Members
  - LSA Student Members can submit their research to the Student Research Spotlight.

- Visit the LSA website for information on other LSA resources, including:
  - Taking Linguistics to the Public: An Outreach Guide
  - Linguistic Academic Depository
  - LSA Jobs Center