New! The 2017 Linguistic Institute will take place at the University of Kentucky in Lexington from July 5 through August 1.

LSA Publications: Language postdoc, new S&P articles

Language, the LSA's flagship scholarly peer-reviewed journal, is seeking a postdoctoral researcher to serve as an editorial and production assistant. Read more ...

Four new articles have been published in the LSA's premier online open-access journal, Semantics and Pragmatics. Read the latest research.

Slate of Candidates for LSA Elections

Preview the Slate of Candidates for LSA officers, at-large members of the Executive Committee, and the Editor-in-chief of Language. LSA members have until July 7 to nominate additional candidates for any of these positions, or until July 1 to propose amendments to the LSA Constitution and Bylaws.

LSA Fellow Nominations

LSA members who have made distinguished contributions to the discipline may be recognized as Fellows of the Linguistic Society of America. Please consider nominating a colleague for this honor.

For more on LSA Fellows, including detailed nomination requirements, a description of the election process, and a list of past Fellows, please click here.

New Special Interest Group: Linguistics Beyond Academia

The LSA is pleased to announce the creation of a new Special Interest Group, "Linguistics Beyond Academia". This SIG works to raise awareness of and provide resources for nontraditional career paths for linguists, including advising the LSA on the needs of its non-academic membership.

The SIG is convened by Anna Marie Trester (FrameWorks Institute) and Anastasia Nylund (Georgetown University). Any LSA member may join the SIG by notifying either of the convenors.
