September Issue of Language Available Online

The September 2022 issue of Language is now available online at Project MUSE. Please see the Table of Contents below, with clickable links to the latest research published in our flagship journal. To read the articles, you will need to be logged in using your institution's online credentials or the Project MUSE link for LSA members.

All LSA members can access issues of Language going back to 2001 through the Project MUSE website. Instructions are available here (login to the LSA website required).

➤ Read the full table of contents online.
and academic review in documentary linguistics

The next LSA monthly webinar will be Wednesday, September 28 at 3:30 p.m. EDT (12:30 p.m. PDT). Entitled, “Tenure, promotion, and academic review in documentary linguistics,” this webinar features a panel discussion of ways to approach the academic review process for linguists working on language documentation. The panel includes two recently tenured linguists involved with language documentation, Kayla Begay (Cal Poly Humboldt) and Jorge Rosés Labrada (U Alberta), and the authors of a new paper in Language, "Assessing scholarship in documentary linguistics", Andrew Garrett (UC Berkeley) and Alice Harris (U Mass Amherst).

➤ Register for the Webinar

New Episode of Subtitle: A Brief History of Death Threats

Until recently, issuing a death threat required some effort. Today, anyone with a phone or computer can make a threat—or receive one. The result is a “golden age” for the dark realm of personal threats.

Forensic linguist Tanya Karoli Christensen and forensic psychologist Lisa Warren help us trace the history of death threats from eloquently penned letters to casually written social media posts. As the platforms for making threats are changing, so too are the methods for assessing their potency.

➤ Listen to the latest episode online or on your favorite device.
➤ Sign up for the Subtitle mailing list to stay up to date on the podcast.

Position Available: LSA Liaison to Unicode

There is an open volunteer position to be the LSA's liaison to Unicode. This person can attend quarterly meetings of the Unicode Technical Committee and participate in various groups (locale data, emoji, scripts, keyboards) with permission of the group's chair. They can also provide feedback on any documents in the Unicode document register [unicode.org]. The liaison would be expected to provide brief reports to the LSA Executive Committee on topics of interest to LSA members.

If you are interested in this position, please contact the LSA Secretariat at lsa@lsadc.org. If you would like more information, please contact Deborah (Debbie) Anderson at dwanders@berkeley.edu. Respond by October 10, 2022.

---

2023 Ballotting Continues…

Balloting continues for the election of LSA Executive Committee Members, Officers, the Co-Editor of Language, and proposed amendments to the LSA Constitution and Bylaws.

We invite you to review the following information prior to balloting:

- Slate of Candidates
- Proposed Amendments to LSA Constitution from Executive Committee
- Proposed Amendments to the LSA Constitution and Bylaws from Members

To cast your ballot, log in to the LSA website, then visit the online ballot or click the button below.

Balloting is open from September 1 through November 5, 2022.

If you have any questions or encounter any difficulties voting, please contact the Secretariat offices at lsa@lsadc.org.

---

In Case You Missed It …

LSA Seeks Executive Director

The Linguistic Society of America (LSA) is seeking its next full-time Executive Director.

Under the direction of the Executive Committee of the LSA, the Executive Director (ED) will be responsible for the oversight and management of Board support; strategic planning and implementation; financial administration; employment and management of staff; membership retention and recruitment; publications; the LSA website; an Annual Meeting, a Linguistic Institute, and other meetings; committee support: development and grants management; communications; and external representation. The ED will be responsible for the office facility (the Secretariat) in Washington, DC, and all day-to-day operations of the Society. The ED reports to the Executive Committee (the Board) through its President. All are accountable to the Society's membership.

The position will be based in Washington, DC, at the Secretariat with the option of remote work, subject to approval. The work environment is representative of those an employee encounters while performing the essential functions of this job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform essential functions.

Salary will be commensurate with experience. To apply, please send a cover letter, resume, and three work references with full contact information to Katha Kissman, Interim Executive Director, kkissman@lsadc.org.

The deadline for applications is October 14, 2022.

➤ Download this job announcement [PDF]
➤ View and share the announcement online

Other LSA Resources

The LSA supports the scientific study of language by creating great venues for linguists from all subfields to congregate and discuss research, innovation, and learning. It is a community of scholars and professionals who have a deep respect for the importance of an interdisciplinary community of peers.

- LSA Listings
  - Job Listings
  - Conference Announcements
  - Grant Opportunities
  - In Memoriam Notices
  - Other news items of interest.
  - Submit a conference listing or contact the LSA with news or other information.

- Support the LSA
  - LSA members can cause a portion of any purchase they make on Amazon.com to be donated to the LSA. [Learn more](https://www.lsa.org/support deductible donation).

- Update Your Member Profile
  - Complete your member profile to be entered in a prize drawing.

- Stay Informed about Language
  - Subscribe to RSS Feeds for the latest issue and the Table of Contents

- Student Members
  - LSA Student Members can submit their research to the Student Research Spotlight.
Visit the LSA website for information on other LSA resources, including:
- Taking Linguistics to the Public: An Outreach Guide
- Linguistic Academic Depository
- LSA Jobs Center

WARNING: Unsubscribing from this email will unsubscribe you from all LSA communications, including membership, mentoring, and Annual Meeting related communications. If you wish to adjust your subscriptions to receive only particular kinds of communication, click “Update Subscription Preferences” below or email membership@lsadc.org

Your LSA membership expires <<Membership Expiration Date>>

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences