More 2023 Awards Announced

The LSA is delighted to announce the following awards made this month. All awardees will be presented with their awards during the 2023 Annual Meeting in Denver, Colorado.

The LSA Journalism Award

The award recipient for 2023 is “DeafBlind Communities May Be Creating a New Language of Touch” by Andrew Leland, published in The New Yorker.

The LSA Mentoring Award

The LSA Awards Committee is pleased to announce Dr. Robert Bayley as the 2023 LSA Mentoring Award Recipient. Dr. Bayley has been teaching in colleges and universities nationally and globally for more than 50 years, serving as a mentor for more than 62 doctoral, master's, and undergraduate students.

The Early Career Award

The members of the LSA Awards Committee selected Nicole Holliday, recognizing her rich publication record (23 publications to date, most within the last 5 years, plus 4 more accepted and 6 more under review) in a wide variety of journals. She has given 22 invited talks since receiving the Ph.D.
2023 Award Recipients are:

- 1st Place: Metrical structure in Northern Pomo, Brady Dailey, Boston University
- 2nd Place: Variability in Paraguayan Guaraní nasal harmony, Katherine Russell, University of California, Berkeley
- 3rd Place: A semiotic analysis of right-wing surveillance of Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez's communicative repertoire, Gabriella Licata, University of California, Berkeley

Linguistics, Language, and the Public Award

For her collective work to spread the word about the beautiful, complex, and fun stories that linguistics has to offer the general public, the Linguistic Society of America commends Dr. Valerie Fridland for her exquisitely crafted essays for non-academic audiences and awards her the 2023 Linguistics, Language, and the Public Award.

Best Paper in Language 2023

The LSA Awards Committee is pleased to announce the recipients of the Best Paper in Language for 2023: Sentence planning and production in Murrinhpatha, an Australian ‘free word order’ language, Rachel Nordlinger, Gabriela Garrido Rodriguez, and Evan Kidd.

Ken Hale Award

The LSA Awards Committee is pleased to announce Andrew Garrett as the 2023 Ken Hale Award Recipient. Through his linguistic and community work documenting languages of Northern California, principally Yurok and Karuk, Andrew Garrett admirably encapsulates the different commitments and achievements of the great Ken Hale.

Victoria Fromkin Memorial Prize Award for Student Excellence in Phonology

Sammy Andersson was selected for the Victoria Fromkin Award on the basis of their important contributions to theoretical phonology and morphology at an early career stage. Andersson's publication record is impressive, with papers published in Glossa and accepted to Phonological Data and Analysis (PD&A) before finishing graduate school.

CEDL Student Travel Grants Available

This year the LSA Committee on Ethnic Diversity in Linguistics (CEDL) is awarding up to five student travel grants supported by the Dennis R. and Carol Guagliardo Preston Fund for Diversity in Linguistics intended to increase the participation of underrepresented ethnoracial minorities in the LSA. Each grant (up to $1000) will assist students in traveling to the 2023 LSA Annual Meeting in Denver, Colorado, January 5–8, 2023, and in defraying other related expenses. Current students with and without accepted abstracts may apply for one of two types of grants:

1. for graduate students who have not completed their linguistics degree program; or
2. for undergraduates who want to pursue a linguistics graduate degree.

The application deadline is Monday, November 21, 2022.

To apply, please complete the PDF form available here and send it to CEDL Travel Grant Selection Committee co-chairs deandre miles-hercules (deandre.miles@emory.edu) and Jamaal Muwwakkil (jamaal@ucsb.edu).
New Episode of Subtitle: How Music Has Shaped African-American Speech

Guest host Ciku Theuri speaks with music writer Jordannah Elizabeth about the intimate relationship between music and Black American speech. That connection was never closer than in the 1930s and 40s when Cab Calloway’s Hepster Dictionary and Sister Rosetta Tharpe’s groundbreaking rock ’n’ roll established new artistic and linguistic pathways.

Student Members: Join COSIAC!

We are reaching out to all student members of the LSA to ask if you would like to be a member of the Committee on Student Issues and Concerns (COSIAC).

The charge of COSIAC is to “address issues and concerns of student members.” These include reviewing services currently provided to student members, with an eye to expanding and improving them, and making recommendations to the Executive Committee on ways to increase student participation and involvement in LSA activities. COSIAC is an open committee, which means that any student member of the LSA is welcome to join.

While a student member of the LSA may join at any time, there is critical business facing the Committee in the near term and we encourage students to join by November 7, 2022, so as to participate in this upcoming need for our Society.

For more information on COSIAC, please visit the COSIAC page on the LSA website. If you would like to join COSIAC, please contact the LSA Secretariat staff at lsa@lsadc.org.
